voici toute l'information:

Événement sur Facebook: <http://uottawa.facebook.com/event.php?eid=7425847227> pour le Conseil de Faculté du 6 décembre. J'ai créé l'événement le 29 novembre sur Facebook et j'ai invité ma liste de contacts. Nathalie Page a ajouté sa présence à l'événement le 6 décembre à 11h (deux heures avant la réunion du Conseil de Faculté qui était à 13h). Les seules autres personnes qui ont confirmés leur présence à cet événement sont : Andréanne, Federico, Michael, Daniel et moi-même.

D'ailleurs, selon son profil de Facebook, joindre mon événement est la première chose que Nathalie Page a fait sur Facebook (6 décembre): <http://www.facebook.com/profile.php?id=790554603> . Par exemple, elle a seulement ajouté une photo sur son profil le 8 décembre. Nathalie Page est aussi dans 4 groupes sur Facebook. Les voici (dans l'ordre croissant dans lesquels elle les a joint, mais je ne sais pas les dates exactes pour chaque):

- Ottawa Cinema Politica
- Environnement Ottawa
- Step it up - Allons de l'avant (campagne de la FÉUO contre la violence faite aux femmes)
- Reagan-Goldwater Society (groupe d'étudiants conservateurs à Ottawa)

Philippe,

Is the attached the correct picture that was used to join your FC Facebook group...?

Remember to fill me in when you have time...

Description

Dean of Science André Lalonde will let the Faculty Council discuss the future of the controversial SCI1101/SCI1501 Science and society course, aka the "Activism Course", after all previous three 2007 meetings of the Council were cancelled, and after students who wanted to bring the topic on the table were insulted or even threatened by Faculty members.

At this meeting, student representatives will ask:

- that the French version of the course SCI1501 be offered in the Winter 2008 (it should have been offered in the Fall 2007 but was not scheduled)
- that the SCI1101/1501 course descriptions be amended.
- that a new 2nd year Science and society course: SCI2101 be approved.

Result: meeting cancelled again.

Apparently the Faculty Executive prefers to not have Faculty Council meetings at all rather than bring the subject of the Science in society course cancellation on the table.

I wish I didn't have to work that day. Can someone please keep me informed on what the outcome is? I've heard bit and pieces of what's happening and it is all very interesting. PS...What did they threaten you about?!

I'm still anxious and disappointed that they didn't even bother to apologize for the threats I received seven months ago, but I still wouldn't miss it.

If anything, it is an interesting step into understanding university governance.
